WNTC to Try Again

Station Manager Herman Steinborn announced last week that Campus Station WNTC would remain off the air until the beginning of the spring semester. This decision was necessitated by the installation of a new console for which operators must be trained. Past experience has also proved that there is a shortage of personnel during the weeks directly prior to final examinations.

The station will, however, continue to broadcast all Clarkson home basketball and hockey games as well as the State Teachers home basketball games.
